

Analyzing and Visualizing WeRateDogs

By Youssef Malek

First, WeRateDogs is a Twitter account that rates people's dogs with a humorous comment about the dog. These ratings almost always have a denominator of 10. The numerators however are almost always greater than 10 (11/10, 12/10, 13/10, etc.). In theory the rates should be 1 to 10. However, WeRateDogs disagree, they admit almost all dogs deserve a 10 and sometimes more than that.

WeRateDogs has over 8.9 million followers and has received international media coverage. One of those coverage was about the quote “they’re good dogs, Brent”, this was an exchange in which WeRateDogs shut down a person having an issue with its rating system in humorous ways.

Insights

- Most common dog type WeRateDogs has over 13K Tweets. I was able to analyze around 1500+ tweets. The most rated dog was golden retriever with more than 140 ratings.

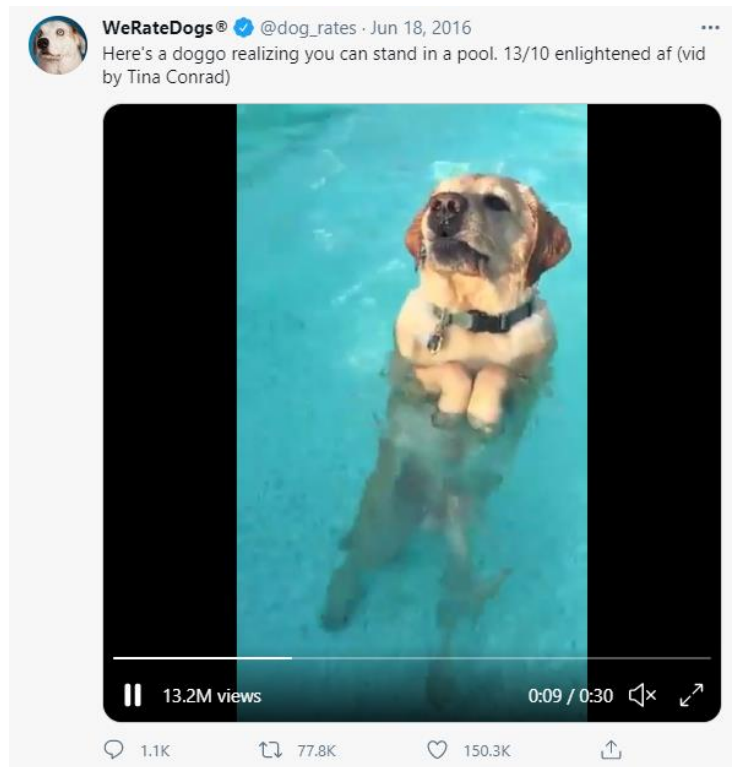

- The highest rating for a dog type was given to Bouvier des Flandres (Cute little boy)

- Almost all dogs deserve ratings above 10. There is a notable exception of Japanese spaniel that has the lowest average rating (Poor little fellow).

- The most retweeted (77.8K retweets) dog goes to the most rated dog type: Golden Retriever

- In this analysis I compare retweets and favorite overtime. The trend looks to be increasing over time. We can also notice that People tend to like more than retweeting.
